JUPITER TRANSITS: PREDICTIVE ASTROLOGY – TECHNIQUES FOR PREDICTING THE FUTURE

Back to Predictive Astrology Main Page

Overview:

Jupiter takes approximately 12 years to come full circle. Therefore, every 3 years or so, Jupiter will transit conjunct, square, or opposite a natal point. When that natal point is an intensely personal planet or point (such as the Sun, Moon, Ascendant, Mercury, Venus, or Mars), we feel its effects in a similarly personal way.

Jupiter transits perhaps receive more positive press than they deserve, as those of us who have waited for Jupiter to transit conjunct our Sun can attest. Why? Because if we wait for Jupiter to bestow us with wonderful gifts, we are sure to be disappointed. What Jupiter does do is infuse us with the license to dream, to hope, and to feel good about ourselves.

transits allow growth and expansion of consciousness involving the conditions and natures of the houses and planets involved. Our confidence and level of joy are increased in these areas of life, and we feel motivated to improve or gain in these areas of life.

These are times in our lives when we feel a little more free and confident, and when we are not as aware of restraints. Problems arise when we overdo, and are so confident that we ignore reality and don't think of consequences. However, just as we need Saturn to remind us that we need to buckle down, we also need Jupiter to remind us that we won't get very far if we don't believe in ourselves.

Jupiter acts to expand, and it gives us hope and enthusiasm. It can also make us feel rather restless or overconfident. Jupiter is the planet of possibilities and it offers us promises. Whether these promises are realistic is something to consider seriously.

However, Jupiter is a jovial influence, and we all need that kind of energy from time to time! When Jupiter transits a natal planet, it gives that part of our personality a boost, reminding us that we may have been underestimating our capabilities. It invites us to have some faith in ourselves and our abilities.

Remember always that for Jupiter transits to benefit us to the utmost, we need to grab opportunities. We cannot wait for things to happen to us. At the same time, we must be aware of the potential for overdoing, for glossing over details to feed our optimism.

Jupiter transits conjunct Sun This is a highly touted aspect, but much will depend on the condition of the Sun at birth. If the Sun is challenged natively, Jupiter transiting conjunct with the Sun may bring about some opportunities. Still, they may not be easy to grab unless you have built your self-confidence before the transit occurs.

Sometimes, unexpected windfalls come during this transit—but don't count on it. Reasonable investments are generally favored at this time, but it's a good idea to factor in the condition of the natal Sun and the nature of other transits occurring at the same time. If the Sun is challenged, you may not have the best judgment now.

It's an excellent time to start new long-term projects. You may feel more vital, confident, and optimistic about the future at this time. It's an excellent time to resolve conflicts. Events may give your ego a boost, and you could be feeling quite vital and alive.

Take advantage of this by promoting yourself or putting yourself "out there." As you prepare for this transit, consider whether you want to begin a new long-term project and try to launch it at the time of the transit (assuming all other things are equal). Look for Leo in your natal chart, as the Sun rules Leo, and this is an area of life that will be directly affected by the transit (in addition to the house where the transit actually takes place).

Jupiter transits sextile Sun This can be an excellent time for financial transactions, making plans for the future, making investments, resolving conflicts with others, and boosting self-confidence. You can feel particularly vital and confident, and this inner "sunny-ness" can bring its rewards.

Jupiter transits square Sun There may be a tendency to wastefulness during this transit. Faulty decision-making due to over-optimism or arrogance can also be an issue. Avoid making any large purchases during this transit, as you might find that once Jupiter

This is a time to find ways to improve your life and your satisfaction from life. Resolving conflicts with others is in favor, and you do come across in a more favorable light than usual. It's generally a good time to invest.

Essentially, Jupiter is giving your ego a boost, and it's likely a much-needed boost. New visions of the future and new inspirations are likely to come along with this transit.

Jupiter transits opposite Sun You might fall victim to wasting opportunities, time, or resources when transiting Jupiter opposes your natal Sun.

Generally, this transit is a “feel-good” transit. You are likely to be feeling quite powerful and optimistic. The problem with the transit is that you might over-reach due to these inflated feelings of importance. This need not be the case at all. In fact, you may receive a much-needed boost to your ego at this time.

Jupiter-Moon Transits

Jupiter transits to the Moon directly affect the feelings, the public image, and personal popularity. During these transits, you are especially aware of what you need to feel secure. You may tend towards self-indulgence and encounter issues surrounding your need to commit versus your need to be free. Problems from your past may resurface. You are also likely to want to improve your domestic affairs and relationships.

Avoid the tendency to splurge or to pamper yourself for no other reason except to tame your moodiness. Putting on weight is one possibility of this transit, but awareness of the roots of your dissatisfaction can go a long way toward preventing the addition of more debt or pounds to your life and your body. What you are really looking to do is to expand your emotional life with joy and pleasure. Consequently, the best way to find satisfaction is to weed out what is making you unhappy on a spiritual level.

Jupiter transits trine Moon You can feel personally popular and well-received by others at this time. If this is not immediately apparent to you, dig deeper and appreciate your relations with your family and close friends.

Goodwill and optimism characterize this period. Because they don't always coincide with specific external events, Jupiter's trines to personal planets might go unnoticed. However, if you know this transit is coming, be aware that your faith in yourself and others at this time can be especially rewarding and personally satisfying.

Use this time to resolve conflicts with others, as you are bound to be well-received with your sincere and warm demeanor. Do something to improve your domestic life—whether Jupiter transits opposite Moon Depending on your character and life situation, you can feel especially optimistic or emotionally self-indulgent during this transit. Some of us experience swings from optimism to self-pity.

Problems rooted in the past and with family and early childhood are apt to surface while Jupiter opposes natal Moon, and productivity may be adversely affected as you nurse your wounds. There can be a tendency to put on weight or to be financially extravagant. If this is the case, recognize that it's a sign that you are looking for emotional satisfaction in the wrong places.

You may be questioning the amount of support you are receiving from others, but be aware that your judgment on this matter is likely skewed. You might be setting others up on some level to prove to yourself how unsupported you are. We all need to feel emotionally supported, and this transit makes us more aware of that need.

Ideal handling of this transit is facing what you feel is lacking in your life—that which is causing you to feel unhappy. The fact is, if you choose to reach out to others at this time, it is more likely than not that they will be receptive to you, as long as you sincerely want them to be.

Jupiter transits square Mercury If you are now encountering some problems in your communications with others, it may be because you are not listening very well. Jupiter transits conjunct Venus You have a strong urge to socialize and improve your enjoyment of life through leisurely activities and romantic connections during this transit. You are more friendly than usual, and you come across in a better “light” on a social and romantic level.

Because you have the opportunity to make a good impression, schedule an interview, ask for that raise, or make time for social activities. It may be subtle, but your demeanor is friendlier and more sincere than usual. You are that much more charming and feeling generous as well. It is also possible that you will attract money at this time.

Jupiter transits square Venus Overindulgence is the theme of this transit. Your desire for pleasure increases dramatically, and you are likely to overestimate your ability to indulge and get away with it! You may also come across as insincere or superficial at this time. There is a risk of overspending or overeating—both are symptoms of your inner restlessness. Indeed, it can be hard to focus on your responsibilities at this time due to a desire to spoil yourself with pleasurable activities. You need to exercise some moderation at this time.

Jupiter transits trine Venus You are feeling generous and romantic during this transit. This positive attitude can help you attract positive experiences and situations. You are very creative, and your social life is activated or enhanced. Jupiter is acting to expand your desire for pleasure, romance, and material goods as well. This is a favorable time to start a new endeavor, especially one that is intended for profit (unless, of course, there are other serious afflictions).

Jupiter transits opposition natal Venus !This is not a good influence, although being an aspect between two beneficial planets, its power for ill is slight. It will, however, tend to cause some loss, whether financial, through travel or through dealing with religious people. Those who have influence in the social world will not be well disposed to you at this time; you should take care not to come into conflict with superiors or those who are in any way connected with the law.

This is not a good aspect for domestic affairs, or for any relationships that may be formed at this time. It is likely to cause some sort of disappointment or some temporary loss and difficulty. For example, someone to whom you are attached could go abroad or has some important engagement that will cause a separation while this influence is in operation. It is not, on the whole, a good influence for pleasure. In fact, there is usually a mixture of pleasure and sorrow combined under this aspect. However, with care, it will not affect you seriously.

You could be feeling well-balanced on mental, emotional, physical, and spiritual levels at this time.

Jupiter transits square Chiron

When transiting Jupiter squares natal Chiron, it's possible for your personal wounds to be accentuated by current events and circumstances. You might find yourself yearning, perhaps even hungry, for more meaning, improvement, and healing. However, it's crucial to stay grounded and discerning as you pursue these things. The current trend is to swing to extremes or to place excessive trust in a vision of wellness or improvement that may not be practical or suitable for you. By staying grounded, you can avoid being swept away by unrealistic expectations and maintain a more balanced approach to your personal growth.

During this life phase, it's important to recognize that it's not the most opportune time for making sound judgment calls. Your perceptions may be distorted, leaning heavily towards over-optimism. It's also a period where your beliefs may not be readily accepted and, more importantly, others are not as inclined to put their faith in you. Take a moment to consider if this is because you lack a deep, genuine faith in your current vision. Of course, personal growth is a journey that requires patience and self-assurance, and attempts to rush it now, while tempting, are unlikely to serve you well.

sense or optimism during this period. You can unknowingly set yourself up for a rude awakening or disappointment if you depend too much on your principles and theories. Coming to terms with your inner world and self-development is fine, as long as you avoid pushing your ideas, objectives, and viewpoints onto others, as they are less likely to find your visions and quests meaningful at this time.

You may feel set apart from the mainstream as far as your hopes, wishes, and expectations are concerned. Your faith may mislead you to believe that everything around you can be healed with positive thinking, yet much more effort is required to handle any personal hardship or crisis at this time.

Jupiter transits sextile Chiron

When transiting Jupiter sextiles natal Chiron, you are in the position to expand your outlook and improve your feelings of optimism. Opening your mind or expanding your experiences can have a healing, almost therapeutic effect on your life. Generosity and openness can have a similar outcome. You might also seek more meaning at this time. Opportunities to learn, deepen your knowledge, or travel or venture outside of your usual routine can emerge.

#You can gain more meaning in your life through higher learning, spirituality, or meditative experiences at this time. An open heart, a compassionate spirit, and a positive outlook assist you in developing new philosophies and perspectives, especially with regard to your inner healing and well-being. You may also put more faith in your abilities to help heal the wounds or hardships of loved ones and will put kindness, devotion, and depth of feeling into your relationships.

Chances to broaden your knowledge and beliefs may come through simple life experiences, travel, education, or religious activities which are likely to be very beneficial to your personal growth during this period.

Jupiter transits trine Chiron #A positive and expansive outlook can benefit your well-being at this time. You may be more open-minded with regard to experiencing new things, which will allow healing of your mind, body, and spirit. For instance, you could meditative practices during this period.

An urge to travel to far-away places (real or imaginary) may also be experienced. You may discover new perspectives on your beliefs, faith, and sense of hope. Restoring peace and harmony in your personal life and relationships is possible now through your interest in healing your own wounds, as well as extending compassion and generosity to others.

Jupiter transits opposition Chiron #Your personal, spiritual, or cultural values may undergo questioning. Problems can arise if you have been devoting too much time, interest, and energy to a specific area to the exclusion of other goals. You may feel challenged to conform to the expectations or traditional standards of the people in your personal or professional life at this time. During this period, you are apt to have more faith in your own visions and truths, which you may tend to carry to the extreme. You are inclined to overstate your beliefs, thus creating problems and confrontations with others during this period.

Jupiter transits conjunct Ceres #During this period, you may overextend yourself to loved ones with generosity, care, and nurturing. This is a good time to gain insight and understanding into your own personal needs as well as those of the people closest to you. You can begin to become more of a contributing factor in the education or spiritual upbringing of your children.

You can explore ways to instill positive family values and principles into your domestic life at this time. There are also possibilities that you will take on a greater role in caretaking responsibilities, possibly through the concerns of a distant relative or someone else who openly requests your aid and direction.

Jupiter transits conjunct Pallas #This is a very promising time for mental, creative, educational, and spiritual pursuits. Your studies and personal aspirations are likely to lead you to new personal growth, influential contacts, and wider horizons. You will greatly benefit from opportunities to travel, higher learning, or legal and professional matters. If you have a skill or talent in a particular area, this would be a good time to improve or enhance this ability.

strategize new methods or creative enterprises. Networking with people who share your intellectual and creative interests will also work out to your benefit now.

Jupiter transits conjunct Juno #You may have the opportunity to improve your marriage or love relationship at this time. You might relate to a loved one with more generosity, cheerfulness, and optimism, as well as cherish their trust, faith, and commitment now. Even if you overdo for your loved one now, your positive attitude will bring benefits to your relationship or marriage.

There is a likelihood you will discover more about yourself through the experiences you share with a mate or partner during this period. You may search for ways to enhance togetherness by taking up a new interest, such as travel, education, or a new business goal or by regaining a sense of religion or spirituality in your partnership. Planning out future dreams and visions with your mate can be very rewarding to you now.

Jupiter transits conjunct Vesta #Enthusiasm may be at an all-time high, and you set your sights on doing something meaningful and profitable in order to expand business, professional, or personal aspirations. Dedication, commitment, and courage allows you to get absorbed in any task, endeavor, or venture which you conceive has real value and substance.

If your work or a personal ambition is unfulfilling, you may search for greener pastures or look for ways to improve your current situation. You may gain insight through education, travel, business courses, or training in a specific field of interest to you. You will want to convince colleagues and professionals that you will extend yourself and serve them to the best of your abilities. Since some of your aims and objectives can involve work or interests outside family and romantic relationships, you will have to be open and honest with loved ones, who may be feeling a little left out in the cold.

A general description of transiting Jupiter – excerpt from the Sky Log report:

“Essentially, this is a call to recognize an opportunity. Traditional astrologers view it more starkly — to them, it is simply the planet of luck. And that is often the case: the toast does tend to land butter-side up when Jupiter is crossing sensitive territories. But the real, evolutionary meaning lies deeper. One key is that Jupiter is future-oriented...it is concerned with bright, unexplored possibilities. Stripped to its bones, Jupiter always asks one primary question: how have you been underestimating yourself?

Its transits signal a time when new opportunities come into existence, but to seize them you must recognize that you deserve them, that you are capable of rising to them, and that old deals and compromises are finished. Trust yourself, have faith in life, and go for it: that’s the spirit of Jupiter.”
